E DIC AT IO N S in general are so many sacrifices of praise, laid upon an altar erected for him to whom they are offered, at the expence of truth, one of the most amiable virtues. All the excellencies of human nature, which form the characteristic differences between Vol. I. a good 200303 good and bad men, are indiscriminately consigned to him to whose honor the rite is performed. Hence a fad reverse of characters is handed down to posterity; and those, the remembrance of whom should have ended with their lives, stand recorded in their deaths as the distinguished actors, as well as patrons, of all that is praise-worthy. I know, Sir, that you, as well as myself, condemn such sacri- fices, and those who offer them. After After this declaration of the fense I entertain of the general addresses of this fort, I found myself under no difficulty in applying to you, THE FRIEND OF HUMAN NATURE, for permission to send into the world, under the sanction of your name, the works of an author, who, through life, had a strict claim to that character; and whose substitute, since his death, you are in some sort become, by the alliance of one of your family with that person whom, by the last solemn act of a a his extended to such a length, by your constant and affectionate watchfulness over a constitution, the existence of which, un- r der Providence, your great professional knowledge...
