Sixty-three candidates had been admitted to learn the system; fifty-one had been appointed to the charge of schools; eight schools had been supplied with teachers; fifteen missionaries had applied to obtain an insight into the system. In consequence of the extreme ignorance which was found to prevail in the agricultural districts, it had been determined by the committee to offer assistance to any persons who would endeavour to establish schools in those districts; applications had been received from fifty-one places, most of which had been met. The Report went on to state that there were many thousands of children in the metropolis who had not as yet enjoyed the benefits of education. In France the Government began to be fully alive to the importance of a moral and religious education, and were disposed to promote the system of mutual instruction: 1551 schools had been opened, 2,900,000 children were receiving their benefits. In the Ionian Isles there were 127 schools for boys, in which 4962 were instructed daily. Throughout Asia Minor scriptural instruction was rapidly spreading; and on the site of the decayed Churches of Asia, schools were now in active operation. In Southern and Western Africa various schools among the Hottentots were in a thriving state. Schools were about to be established in Macarthy s Island, for the benefit of the Foulah tribe. In adverting to Sierra Leone, honourable mention was made of Mrs. Hannah Kilham, who, up to the latest period of...
