Excerpt: . . . enforcement programs. IRSs tax database does not reflect amounts owed by exempt organizations that have not filed tax returns and for which IRS has not assessed tax amounts due. Additionally, our analysis did not account for exempt organizations that underreported payroll taxes and 26 had not been identified by IRS. As reported previously and as indicated in our case study investigations, some exempt organizations underreported payroll taxes or failed to file returns. IRS estimates that underreporting 27 accounts for more than 80 percent of the gross tax gap. We also took a number of steps in determining the amount of tax debt owed by exempt organizations to avoid overestimation. For example, some recently assessed tax debts that appear as unpaid taxes through a matching of IRS unpaid tax and exempt organization records may involve matters that are routinely resolved between the exempt organization and 28 IRS, with the taxes paid, abated, or both within a short period. We eliminated these types of debt by including only unpaid federal taxes for tax periods prior to calendar year 2006. Further, we did not include exempt organizations with tax debt of 100 or less because these small debts likely do not represent abusive behavior. We also eliminated all tax 29 debt IRS identified as not agreed to by the exempt organization. Further, the amount of exempt organization tax debt excludes amounts owed by exempt organizations for which the statutory collection period expired. Generally, there is a 10-year statutory collection period beyond 30 which IRS is prohibited from attempting to collect tax debt. Consequently, if exempt organizations owe federal taxes beyond the 10-year statutory collection period, the...
